

Four-County Convention To Open Sunday

An Editorial

Acme Hose Co., made up of more than 60 volunteer firemen in East Stroudsburg, is playing host next week to the Four-County Firemen's Assn.

The company has assumed an $18,000 obligation for an elaborate program which promises plenty of wholesome entertainment for the public as well as the several thousand firemen who will be our guests during all or part of the convention.

Besides the $18,000 (or more) which the firemen already anticipate spending as host company, an unexpected item which may run as high as $1,000 has cropped up at the last minute and poses a real problem.

Thousands of man-hours have already been given freely by the volunteers to make the affair an outstanding success. Why should they be deterred from putting on the convention along the lines they originally planned?

Any intrusion would not be in the real American tradition, since the fire company is strictly a volunteer outfit which operates on a non-profit basis.

The fireworks display, water show, annual parade, religious service and several other events are open to the public. As such, the affair can properly be described as a community-wide event which merits the support of everyone in Monroe County.

In fact, unless the public fully backs all phases of the program there is a very real danger that the firemen cannot meet their $18,000 obligation. All outstanding debts will then fall back on these civic-minded volunteers.

They are the men who fight the fires in East Stroudsburg 365 days of every year and stand by at all times ready to assist any other company in the area should a call for help be necessary.

They should not be saddled with the entire burden of putting over a successful convention. We, as citizens, can show our appreciation for their year-around public service in two ways:

We can buy tickets for the water carnival to be presented three nights and two days next week. And we can purchase tickets for the fireworks display and beauty contest next Monday night.

One of the firemen's biggest expenditures will be the $6,000 they must pay for the water show, regardless of the number of spectators it attracts. This is in addition to the $810 cost of the orchestra for five performances.

A $7,000 item covers the cost of prizes for the parade and refreshments for visiting marchers. The fireworks will cost another $1,500, plus additional expense for lumber, liability insurance, etc.

Other expenses, all adding up to a sizeable sum, include $375 for Chief Halftown, entertainer; $400, sound system; $500, erection of toilets and mowing of firemen's lot; $800, advertising, posters and tickets; $1,000, for banquet above cost to diners; $150, religious service, plus incidental expenses for electricity, printing, postage and the like.

Those are the figures in black and white. Most of the contracts were signed last Fall, when the economic outlook was rosier. The firemen should not be left holding the financial bag. It is every citizen's duty to support the entertainment events and thus help the firemen at least break even in their role as host company.

Greater Philadelphia Group Sees 'Hopeful Sign' In Letter Written By Stevens

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Greater Philadelphia Movement yesterday saw as a "hopeful sign" a State Highways Department plan for establishing priorities on interstate road projects in Pennsylvania.

The GPM disclosed receipt of a letter from Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens saying the department expects to complete the schedule by year's end. It will include a timetable for construction of the 290-mile Keystone Shortway from Sharon to Stroudsburg.

Walter Plans Plea By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Francis E. Walter said yesterday he is requesting a group of Pennsylvania Congressmen to join him in a new plea to the U. S. Bureau of Roads to speed construction of the Keystone Shortway route.

The new request to highways administrator Bertram D. Talamy will be made in a letter signed by all congressmen whose districts will be traversed by the superhighway.

The general route of the highway, to be a part of the interstate road network for which the federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost, already has been approved by the bureau.

In addition, Walter has received a letter from Talamy in which the administrator said that detailed locations of a western and an eastern portion of the route have been received from the Pennsylvania Highways Department and have been approved here.

Talamy's letter said the approved portions stretch from DuBois to the Ohio state line and from near Lewisburg eastward to Stroudsburg. Details of the center-of-state portion of the route are being awaited from Harrisburg, the letter said.

House Okays Lower Trade Barriers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House shored up opposition to the Eisenhower trade agreement yesterday and passed 317-98 a bill authorizing lower international trade barriers. It was a major victory for President Eisenhower.

The action shifted to the Senate arena further battling over legislation to extend the reciprocal trade agreements program for five years beyond its June 30 expiration date.

Protectionists, crying out that cheaply made imported products are destroying American industry and throwing people out of jobs, fought the bill to the end. But their ranks were thinned steadily by desertions in the face of what some of them called administration bribing of votes.

Twice they fell in defeat before the final ballot.

Battered Down

A substitute bill to curb Eisenhower's trade authority and extend it for only two years was battered down 234-147 and an effort to send the administration measure back to committee and bottle it up there lost 268-146.

The widening vote margins surprised House leaders. They had predicted the bill would squeak by its crucial tests by perhaps 20 to 40 votes.

Eisenhower put his personal prestige at stake, with repeated appeals to the nation, and Tuesday to the House itself, to support the five-year extension. He contended the trade program is essential to promote American prosperity and protect the security of the free world.

On final passage, the line-up was 184 Democrats, 133 Republicans for the bill; 59 Democrats, 39 Republicans against.

As the legislation went to the Senate, it would allow Eisenhower to reduce existing tariffs five per cent a year for five years.

Committee Lists Status Of Principals

SWIFTWATER—Pocono Mountain Joint School Committee has approved a letter which will notify two of its three supervising principals that they will be known as "building principals" or just plain "principals" from now on.

The letter will also tell them that their salary, henceforward, will be $7,100 per year.

According to decision of the board, the one supervising principal in the joint school system—from July 1 on—will be C. Willis Dunlap, Tobyhanna Township School principal and administrative head of the joint schools.

Affected Two other supervising principals, who are fully accredited as supervisors, will be affected. They are George Webb Jr., of Barrett School and Lawrence Wile, of Pocono Township School.

According to a copy of the letter read last night at a meeting of the joint school committee by solicitor Alex Bensinger, "all building principals" will be employed henceforth on a 12-month basis.

The joint school committee said that the "one supervising principal only" rule is in accordance with State school law. The committee met here at Paradise School.

School Moves Toward Speed

By Leonard Randolph
SWIFTWATER—Pocono Mountain Joint School Committee did some legal paper work last night which the committee hopes will speed up construction of its proposed high school.

In unanimous action, the committee agreed to waive reimbursement from the state on the new project for a period of one year after construction.

In the complicated legal machinery of school construction under state regulations, the move means:

That the State Department of Public Instruction can now "pull" the joint district's FIRM-40 building form "out of the file" and process it immediately.

Once this form is processed and room schedules for the new school are approved, construction of the building could begin.

There is one big "if" over which the state has no control, however. Neither does the local joint district.

This is in the area of bonded financing for the school construction project.

The board has been told by its bond counsel, Ira Haupt

Co., that no bonds can be floated or issued until a definite assessment percentage figure is established in Monroe County.

At last night's regular Joint Committee meeting, held in Paradise Township School, committee member Anthony Bolyn summed up the joint board's dilemma:

"We're faced with a critical problem. We're short of space and we don't have any place to put these kids now. And it's going to cost us half again as much as it should have to build our building even when we do get to the point where we're able to."

The jointure's architect, L. P. Koonen Co., has indicated that work on planning for the secondary school can be resumed once the go-ahead signal is given by the state.

In taking its move last night, the joint board said, in effect, that it was clearing away the obstacles.

Without a county-wide assessment percentage (the percentage at which appraised properties are to be assessed) the work cannot proceed very far, however, the committee said.

Indicated that its appraisal of Price Township properties is almost complete if it is not finished by now.

Delays In Flood Repairs Mystery To Greentown Area Residents

By Peggy Bancroft
NEWFOUNDLAND—"Who is responsible for the unjust delays in at least beginning work we were promised would start nearly two years ago in the flood-torn Greentown area?"

"Why do we have to live with the destruction of the flood of 1955 in the year of 1958?"

"Why are the people of Greentown and Newfoundland being treated as second class citizens?"

These questions are being asked by people who saw floodwaters take out bridges, homes and entire properties, and who have listened to promises that repairs and replacements would be forthcoming "as soon as possible."

Ask Weldon Hector, immediate past commander of the American Legion Post, Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips 859. He'll say: "This indecision is murderous. The money has been allocated for the bridges on Route 507 at Greentown. The township has taken their allocation and replaced their bridges. What or who is holding up the State work?"

Ask the Greene-Dreher-Sterling School Board, who for some time has been paying an additional five dollars a day to a driver who must cover a total of 20 extra miles a day to pick up students because a bridge is out.

Ask the people of Greentown who live a quarter of a mile or less from the Greentown Post Office. They drive five miles around the drive to get to the post office that is close enough to reach a foot—if there were a bridge across the creek.

Ask Mrs. Harry Duecker, who has lived in terror every time it rained or snowed for the past three years. Mrs. Duecker's home is the only one remaining in the Greentown area where 11 of her neighbors lost their lives. Her home is constantly threatened by the converging waters of the East Branch of the Wallenpaupack and the Paupack Creek, in a "T" formed by construction crews in their relocation work done after the flood.

Mrs. Duecker has the assurance of the Flood Control District Office in Stroudsburg that necessary work in the area will be done. She has a letter which states:

"Your property is included in the Newfoundland channel project. Work on this project was suspended on orders from Harrisburg headquarters until we were able to get satisfactory results. It is the opinion of the District Engineer that work on the project will not resume until sometime late in May. At that time, the construction will be completed and this will include your area."

That letter promised help in May. It was dated April 3, 1957.

This year, on April 14, a communication from the office of

Gov. George Leader to Mrs. Duecker said:

"It is our understanding that these projects (reconstruction of two bridges in Greentown) will be advertised for construction in June." This letter was in reply to a petition bearing 225 names asking for action.

Mrs. Duecker has recently enlisted the aid of Congressman Joseph Carrigan, who has told her he will visit the area and "will do anything I can to be helpful to you in connection with flood prevention measures that are anticipated for your area."

Recently, contact was made by Mrs. Duecker with the Kibby Health Center in Wilkes-Barre, since the conditions around her home, where stagnant water stands in pools gouged by the high waters in December, 1957, offer excellent breeding places for mosquitoes.

However, the uncompleted channel work at the confluence of the creeks where a whirlpool is ever-widening and threatening the Duecker home; the two Greentown bridges, one gone completely at the site where Joseph Orchard, of Hop Bottom, lost his life when his automobile plunged over the gap, and the other in a highly dangerous condition; a third bridge in Greentown where the guard rail has never been replaced; these are the problems residents are facing with grave concern.

Action has been promised monthly, weekly and even daily. But Greentown and Newfoundland are questioning the promises. They feel that three years of delay is too long, when they are faced with constant peril.

Low Bids For Water Plant $601,437.85

By Don Allen
THE Stroudsburg Municipal Authority will receive a negotiated bid at its meeting of June 25 for an $800,000 bond issue to finance construction of a water filtration plant and improvements in the borough's water distribution system.

At a meeting last night, the authority received unofficial low bids totaling $601,437.85 for construction of the system. Contracts will also be awarded at the June 25 meeting.

High bids on the six contracts involved in the project totaled $871,084.25.

The $800,000 figure is $92,000 higher than the original estimate of Albright and Friel, consulting engineers to the authority, made in 1957.

By resolution of the authority, upon recommendation of its financial advisors, Blair and Co. of Philadelphia, the bonds will be issued for a 40-year term to provide a minimum cost for debt service.

Water rates will be adjusted to provide the required amount of income for financing the issue.

Expenditures

The difference between the $601,437.85 and $800,000 figures represents expenditures for advertisement of bids, acquisition of land and rights of way, engineering, legal and administrative expenses and contingencies. The latter item represents seven and one-half per cent of the construction costs.

The unofficial low bidders at last night's session were:

Contract One for 28,230 feet of 10 and 12-inch cast iron water main, Atkinson and Peterson Co., Bethlehem, RD 2, $256,133.85.

Contract Two, structural steel work for filter plant and water storage reservoir, Henkels and McCoy, Philadelphia, $199,334.

Contract Three, mechanical work at filter plant, Roberts Filter Manufacturing Co., Darby, $87,300.

Contract Four, electrical work, John R. Walker, Chalfont, $25,100.

Contract Five, heating and ventilation, H. C. Archibald Co., Stroudsburg, $4,640.

Contract Six for 650,000-gallon stainless steel reservoir tank, Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., Philadelphia, $28,930.

Other bidders listed these prices:

Barrett Board Adopts School Budget

CRESCO—Barrett Township School Board has adopted a $154,105.04 budget for the coming school year.

Tax rates for the year will be $15 per capita (in three $5 levies) and 40 mills on property tax. This is an increase of $5 per capita and five mills over the current year.

Board spokesmen said the tax increases were necessary due to increased costs of operation.

The board also placed blame for the increases on the fact that the new tax equalization program for Monroe County has not been put into operation yet.

Conference Room
Tentative plans have been made to use the school auditorium stage and the conference room to take care of larger high school classes this coming year.

This step has been unavoidable, the board said, because the school has a shortage of classroom space and the board wants to keep all Barrett students within the school building.

George Webb Jr., supervising principal, discussed curriculum changes which have been recommended by the State Council of Education. He said that some of the changes have been made mandatory for the coming term.

Barrett School already meets most of the suggested revisions, he said. Some additions must be made to reading classes, however, and further instruction in this subject field will be offered in seventh, eighth and possibly ninth grades next year, Webb reported.

Babe Ruth League, sponsored by Barrett Lions Club, was given permission to use the school field during the baseball season.

State Rules Out Tax

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has ruled out the possibility that youngsters will be required to pay the hotel occupancy tax or tax on meals at summer camps.

Clifford E. Roberts, director of the Sales Tax Bureau, said bonafide summer camps are not hotels and will not be required to collect the three per cent taxes.

Commencement Advice

Critics of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan, who absurdly charge it would "Prussianize" the Pentagon, must have been non-plussed by the commencement advice the President gave the Naval Academy midshipmen at Annapolis.

While counseling the future admirals to strive for competence in the military profession, Mr. Eisenhower recommended that they:

- (1). Think about their professional work "not as something complete in itself, but rather as an essential part of the total life of the nation."
- (2). Achieve "genuine proficiency in a foreign language" to help "improve human understanding in a world of great cultural diversity, and thus to strengthen our relationships with other peoples.

- (3). Strive for a "deeper understanding of the nature of man."
- (4). Develop themselves as "effective leaders in the moral and spiritual realm of life."
- (5). Become champions of personal freedoms.

(6). Keep a sense of humor. What could be less warlike, less "Prussian"? Indeed, the President declared, the function of any officer of the services is to help prevent war and further a just peace.

"Peace," he said, "is the imperative of our age."

Opinions Of Other Editors

Slowpoke Driver

A year ago this newspaper suggested that state police pull to the side those drivers who insist on traveling 30 and 35 miles an hour on our main highways, holding up long lines of traffic behind them.

It makes the same suggestion again at the beginning of the heavy vacation motoring season.

All these laggards do is invite accidents and annoy and delay those behind them. If they want to drive at that speed they should stick to the secondary roads.

Police can find plenty of ways to harass them. And that is what should be done because they don't care how they take the fun out of driving for those who are trailing them.

Traffic has increased to such an extent on our highways that drivers of this kind no longer can be tolerated.

Robert S. Allen Reports ...

Alluring Red Offer

Washington — Premier Khrushchev is bailing his surprise bid for large-scale expansion of trade with the U. S., including credits to finance it, with a tempting proposition. The Soviet proposes immediately to buy $15,000,000 of textile machinery, including one entire plant.

They explained these purchases would be shown to top Kremlin authorities, including Khrushchev, as examples of what U. S. machines and plants produce. Other significant disclosures made by the Soviet buyers were:

Khrushchev is planning to proclaim a new policy of increasing consumer goods for the Russian masses. (A few years back former Premier Georgi Malenkov was booted out and exiled to running a power plant in a remote province because he proposed expanding consumer production.)

The U. S. will be asked to admit other Soviet trade missions to buy equipment for consumer goods. Two reasons are primarily behind the Kremlin's desire for these purchases: (1) The superiority of U. S. machinery and assurances of speedy deliveries; (2) aim to greatly expand trade between the two countries.

The Red mission evinced great interest in U. S. synthetic materials, especially those used with cotton and wool in clothing.

But despite repeated requests to visit plants making such synthetics and mixtures, the Russians did not succeed in doing that. No invitations could be obtained for them. The companies politely declined to admit them.

Bargaining Move—The Soviet buyers were frank in their admiration of the mechanization of U. S. textile mills and the high quality of their output.

They marveled particularly at two things: (1) the relatively small number of workers required to turn out a great deal of products; (2) the considerable number of inspectors closely checking the goods.

In Russia, they explained, exactly opposite conditions prevail. The number of workers is many times that in U. S. mills, while Russian inspectors are very few.

To the surprise of State Department guides, two of the Red buyers asked to be taken to an Orthodox church. When that was arranged, the entire mission showed up and attended the service—including Khrushchev, a veteran Communist and party leader.

While in New England, one Russian asked if the FBI "is keeping an eye on us." The State Department official expressed doubt of that.

"I would be very much surprised if the FBI isn't doing it," spoke up an AMTORG representative. "The FBI follows me everywhere I go. I have even gotten to know several agents, and invited them to go to a movie with me."

"Did they?" asked the State Department man.

The AMTORG representative grinned, but didn't answer.

Khrushchev's intimation about trade credits, in his recent letter to President Eisenhower, is not taken seriously by State Department authorities.

They view this proposal as a bargaining maneuver to induce the U. S. to expand trade with the Soviet. The textile machinery buying mission indicated the Soviet is ready to pay for that equipment in dollars. By hinting at seeking credits, the Kremlin could then drop that as a "major concession" in return for the U. S. permitting more machinery and goods to be sold to Russia.

To counter this strategy, the State Department is considering asking the Soviet to resume negotiations on its long-standing World War II lend-lease debt.

Originally the Soviet owed $11 billion for such aid. The U. S. pared that down to $800,000,000. But the Kremlin has balked all efforts to settle. The State Department now proposes to revive this decade-old issue in replying to Khrushchev's move to buy U. S. goods on installment.

Note: A Russian film festival is being arranged in Santiago, Chile. Sergi Konstantinov, an important official of the Soviet film industry, has arrived in Santiago to get this affair underway.

Time Out For Tears

Dear Abby: Will you please tell me why my man weeps and carries on when his wife passes away when all the time she was living he never gave her a kind word? She was a good wife and a wonderful mother to his children for 35 years, but everyone knows he treated her like dirt. And now that she is gone he is inconsolable. How Come? HER SISTER is that I have run out of ideas for my daughter's letter endings. She is writing to a fellow who is stationed in Japan and she writes him almost every day. Do you know where I can buy a book with sweet endings in it for letters to men in service? For example: "Oceans of love with a kiss on each wave." We've used that already. Thank you. MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know of any book, but I think your daughter should end her letters with something original. If it's sincere and affectionate he won't mind seeing the same one repeated in every letter.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 12 years old and he is worrying us because he is too peaceful. The other kids gang up on him (even the girls), tease him, call him "sissy" and even hit him, and he cries and runs home. Must we raise a roughneck and streetfighter in order to have him acceptable to the other children? He's a good student and minds his own business, but he is very unhappy because he has no friends. Please tell us what to do. WORRIED PARENTS

DEAR WORRIED: You do your son no favor by letting him run home and cry on your shoulder. The world is tough and he has to live in it. Give him special training in athletics (boxing or judo) and he will have more self-confidence.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having a little family trouble and I would like some advice from you. We have four children and I am not saying they are angels, but they are no worse than the average kids these days. Well, my husband likes children, but not ours. He says they are just like my side of the family. I love our children and always take their part but this has caused my husband and me to separate many times already. He says if I get rid of the kids (let my mother raise them) we could make a go of our marriage, but not unless. Any suggestions? HAVING PROBLEMS

DEAR HAVING: Tell your great big overgrown juvenile that being a "father" is more than a biological accident. If he can't face up to his responsibility, HE should clear out, and send the support money through the mails.

DEAR ABBY: My problem

High Noon?

George Sokolsky Says ...

Cornell's Blue Law

ANY AMERICAN university faces the problem that when boy meets girl things can happen. There are always adults, particularly parents and deans, who would thwart the biological process, which is as difficult as a blushing June. Deans are especially bothered by it because when things go wrong, like a girl committing suicide or running off with an ex-burglar who is a bartender, the situation becomes very messy.

It used to be that the Trustees had much to say about the running of universities but these days are over in the United States and well they might be. Trustees could perform a very useful service, but since professors gained the right of tenure, the Trustees can do little about either teachers or students. Besides, the Trustees are usually frightened by the publicity that professors are able to generate when annoyed.

There are still a few scholars - presidents and they are respected. Too many university presidents are administrators who would do as well running a department store or a manufacturing plant. Few of them are inspiring human beings and the students rarely see them except formal occasions which is not good enough.

In fact, in the freshman class at any college, when students should have the most intimate contact with the most mature personalities in a university, they generally meet instructors who are themselves only graduate students working for Ph.D.' or the less successful among the faculty. It is a wrong concept of education.

What happened at Cornell brings all this to the fore and while it is not as earthshaking as de Gaulle, it is infinitely more important to all parents who have children at school and to the United States which is quite short of really trained intelligences and is still forced to import many of its best minds from Europe.

Therefore the Cornell episode needs to be studied from every angle, for these were American boys and girls who were asked at the president of the university and at a dean and who did it over the particular issue of sex.

This has been described to me by a student whose letter is in criticism of an earlier account.

count by me on the subject. He says that the fight really started because Miss Theresa Humphreysville, a professor of home economics and chairman of the President's powerful Committee on Student Activities, told the Student Council that (private) apartments were conducive to petting, etc., and that something had to be done.

Of course, when boy meets girl alone in a private apartment, unsupervised, things could happen. They did happen when we were young and most professors and administrators of colleges once were young too, as improbable as it may appear to the youngsters of today.

Young folks tell me that they like to go to college away from home, because by the time they reach calculus, they are through with parental supervision. However, there is too much illegitimacy these days and every scandal causes enormous grief. Well, if worse comes to worst, you can get married, say the young ones. When marriage becomes the final sacrifice for young people, it is indeed a sad world. My correspondent from Cornell writes me:

"... Under present rules the thousand and more undergraduate men living in apartments can hold unchaperoned parties for sophomores, juniors, and senior women provided that at least two couples are present; if such parties were banned, these men would either have to violate regulations, or resign their social life entirely."

"It was the fear of this imminent apartment party ban that triggered the May 23 demonstrations."

I find myself sadly frightened by the ban of girls hanging around boys' apartments, even if it is a foursome because somehow it strikes me that if boy and girl wish to live according to the mores of our civilization, they do not need clandestine means to meet, but if they wish to cheat, they can find means even under the moon and the stars. Young people can have a social life within or without the properties, depending upon character and upbringing.

There was no need for hitting the president with eggs over something they should have learned in English I if in no other subject.

But what the country needs is a normal basis for life and it is a university's obligation to hand down the moral traditions of our civilization to each succeeding generation. If a university does not have that purpose, what good is it?

1. The innocent (?) who babbled, "My father worked at a vegetable market when he was young and single, and my mother-to-be used to come in and pinch the vegetables. Every time she pinched a vegetable my father pinched her, until she couldn't stand it any longer, so they got married."

2. The little girl who complained of a sore mouth. "I ran into a hot marshmallow," she explained, adding, when she was pressed for details, "You see, I was eating one part and didn't notice the other part was on fire."

"No, a bag full of quarters."

When will the Dade County (Florida) gendarmes and "sleuths" and the Florida governor do something (anything) about the murder of Arthur Karoff near the Miami Beach Cafe de Paris last Dec. 9th? Who is the "power" down there keeping this case from the courts? How about questioning the people who (the Karoff family allege) hired paid assassins? Is it true that the "suspect" now in jail (only after Walter Winchell hollered and hollered cost-to-coast) hasn't engaged a lawyer and doesn't want to get out of jail? ... Whyat'???

There's Good News From Boston

Friends of Bill Deering, former editor of The Daily Record, will be happy to know that he is on the road to recovery.

We have learned that Bill, victim of a stroke a short time ago, is now taking walks and mild exercises.

He is currently living with a daughter in Boston, where he is recuperating from his illness.

I know that Bill would very much like to have been in his favorite Pocono Mountains this week and present at the Lions Convention at Camp Tamiment.

Next to newspapering, Bill's number one love was Lionism. He founded several clubs in this locality.

According to reports, Bill is looking forward to the day he can return to Stroudsburg.

John Munier, WVPO announcer, is sitting up and taking nourishment once again as his beloved Boston Red Sox entered yesterday's action with a six-game winning streak.

John sticks with the Sox despite a terrific ribbing from his many friends.

Mrs. Irene Torzillo, who has many friends in Monroe County, is currently a patient at the General Hospital.

She is in Room 217.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mann, recently moved into this area from Long Island, have purchased the John Whitehead and family home at 525 Wallace St., Stroudsburg.

John departs this month for Middletown, N. Y., where he will take over the head football coaching position at the town's high school.

Ken Coss, an employee of Patterson-Kelley, recently caught two carp in the Delaware River.

They were caught on artificial lures and weighed 10 and five pounds.

I'm told catching carp on lures is quite rare.

Gary Sterner, Berwick Heights, East Stroudsburg, is home from college and hard at his Summer job.

Gary will be a junior when he returns to William and Mary College in September.

Dick Gray, 118 W. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, is home from college for the Summer.

Mrs. Geraldine Rodenbaugh, 18 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, is a surgical patient at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

She is in Room 229.

Our Hospital

Robertson is a gentleman bachelor and a Penna. Dutchman. A $12,000 annual savings is being effected at the hospital through the purchase of china-ware to replace the paper cups and plates formerly used and then thrown away. The dishes are cleaned, sterilized and dried with modern electric dish-washing equipment at only a fraction of the former cost.

Visitors who had occasion to use one or more of the many healing and health services of the General Hospital, have told us repeatedly, "I wish for as good a hospital in our town."

If the public would devote as much attention to the General Hospital as the Gray Ladies, community service organizations and boards of directors give in time and funds, it would give our fine institution a deserving boost.

Straka Selected District Chief

GEORGE STRAKA, commander of Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Stroudsburg, has been elected commanding officer of the 20th District of Pennsylvania's VFW.

Straka was named to the top district post at a regular meeting of the three-county organization this past weekend.

His election was directed by VFW delegates in recognition of his performance of duties with the local post and for the district. It includes Northampton, Carbon and Monroe counties.

Straka will be installed as District Commander during the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars State convention in Pittsburgh in July.

Other Lambert Post officials who are District officers include: Paul J. Weller, adjutant; Franklin E. Weller, judge advocate and Frank J. Weller, three-year trustee. All three men are past district commanders.

At a post meeting this week, the VFW elected two new members and reinstated four former members.

A report on the recent successful "Poppy Day" sales was submitted. The sales are carried out each year by the post and its auxiliary. The largest part of the money goes to the VFW National Home for veterans.

Four Ask Change Of Duties In Mountains Jointure

SWIFTWATER — All four coaches in the Pocono Mountain Joint School system have asked to be relieved of their coaching jobs.

At last night's meeting of the Joint School Committee, two of the resignations were officially presented and discussed by board members at the Paradise School.

The first of these came from Joseph Murray, coach at Barrett Township School in Cresco.

A second came from Donald Wismer, coach at Coolbaugh Township School in Tobyhanna. Wismer, who had first asked to be relieved of his coaching duties, is now asking that he be given a one-year sabbatical leave without pay.

By law a teacher is allowed to ask for sabbatical leave. But he is generally placed on half-pay or some other stipend under such conditions. The board expressed surprise at the "without pay" section of Wismer's new request.

In these two cases, the joint school committee is preparing a letter which will be sent to both Murray and Wismer. It will say, in effect, that it is the jointure's policy to consider coaching an integral part of the contract for a health and physical education teacher.

The joint committee also heard about the proposed coaching resignations of Harry Werkheiser, Pocono Township School and John Bush, Tobyhanna Township School.

Kiwanis Club Pays Tribute To Students

STROUDSBURG Kiwanis Club awarded citations to three high school students yesterday at the weekly club meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The three — all girls — were chosen for their outstanding qualities of mental strength, social poise, physical and mental health, spiritual vision and co-operative citizenship.

Each was presented a check and a certificate and will have their names inscribed on a plaque in their respective schools.

Barbara Ann Hilliard received the award for Stroud Union High School from her principal, Alfred Munson. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hilliard of Cherry Valley Road.

Two girls tied for honors at East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School and were presented awards by Ralph Burrows, principal. They were:

Sylvia M. Faucett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Faucett, of Bushkill, and Joan L. Marsh, daughter of Mrs. Irene Marsh, of East Stroudsburg.

Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at the meeting was John R. Eller, assistant dean of men and head soccer coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. His topic was "Fitness Through Sports." Gilbert L. Smrz was program chairman.

Eller is a past president of the National Soccer Coaches Assn., an active leader in the President's National Physical Fitness Program and last year was sent to Europe to help set up a soccer training program for Americans in the armed forces.

Sports are a proving ground for life, Eller told the Kiwanis. If a boy gives up in sports, he will also give up in life just as easily, he said.

If someone wants to become a great athlete, he must work hard, have natural ability, a good coach, right opportunities, words of inspiration and, above all, a "fighting heart," said Eller.

He then cited many examples of Olympic athletes and others who had won world's championships in spite of severe physical handicaps, solely because they had the will to win.

The speaker noted how many poor boys have risen to the top because of the opportunities sports have given them. He also emphasized the part clean living and faith in God plays in an athlete's career and in his life.

"A man can do almost everything if he doesn't care who gets the credit," Eller concluded. "That's the message we ought to get across to our youth of today."

They were: Mrs. Catherine Rowe, hired at a salary of $4,000 per year to teach physical education and social studies at Pocono Township School; Marilyn Miller, $3,400 per year to teach in the primary grades either at Paradise School or Mount Pocono; William Boles, $4,000 per year to teach science and mathematics at Barrett School and Genevieve Batisto, $3,800 for the school year 1958-59 to serve as temporary replacement for Edward Bosman who is taking a one-year leave.

Pocono High Holds Graduation

TANNERSVILLE — A student's debt to his community and the continuing battle between Capitalism and Communism were the two major themes of honor student addresses at Pocono High School Commencement this week.

Richard Bullock's talk on the student and the community emphasized that "a good citizen must be a good neighbor and he must interest himself in those about him."

Pamela Conklin warned that Russia does not want a World War because it might "set back" the Communist program for world domination for a number of years. She said the Communists have set 1973 as their goal for taking over the world.

Bullock urged young people to be willing to meet and talk with others in their community and not be bigoted. From good homes, he said, grow great communities. He went on to say:

"A good citizen contributes his taxes. . . There are two ways to look at taxes. One is to pay them because we have to; the other is to pay them because we understand why they are necessary. One should never take the attitude that he pays taxes just because the law says he 'must' and for no other reason. One must realize that he gets out of his community no more than he puts into it. . ."

"We, as community members, must make the schools of tomorrow meet the exacting standards that will be set up by the sciences and other disciplines. It will not be the 'right' of everyone to have a high school diploma, but the diploma must mean that they have earned it and have something to contribute to others. . ."

"Above all, we mustn't stop at the border between voiced opinion and honest effort. It is the person who is not afraid of others, who has the courage of his convictions who will stand up and try to do his best, who will be the most helpful and the true and respected leader of today and tomorrow."

Miss Conklin warned her audience that "Communism is out to conquer the world and to do that it must eliminate capitalism."

"Communist youth is taught to hate democracy and its principles and that capitalism is a wicked thing. Russia would rather educate world domination by education than by force."

"Well, why can't we do the same thing? I say that the principles of Communism should be taught in every high school in the U. S. today. Don't worry about our youth being converted to its way of thinking. If Communism is presented in a clear and truthful manner, it will be shown to be only bad. There is no good side to Communism."

Stephen Luckey, class president, presented the gift to the school. It was accepted by Lawrence Wile, principal, on behalf of the school.

Diplomas were presented by Vincent Marek, president of the Pocono Township School Board.

Blue Ridge Firemen Conducting Drive For $3,000 To Purchase Radio Equipment

SAYLORSBURG — Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Fire Co., serving Hamilton and Ross townships, is now conducting a campaign for an estimated $3,000.

The money, when available, will be used on a "matching fund" basis with the Federal Government to purchase radio communications equipment.

Use of such equipment would keep the company in immediate contact with all other firefighting organizations in Monroe County.

In the event of a major fire or in the case of a disaster in the community, radio equipment may mean the difference between success or failure.

In a letter mailed out to residents of both townships this past week, the company's finance committee makes an urgent plea for support of the fund drive. The letter says:

"As a sponsor of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, you should be interested to know what we have been doing for your protection and to make our community a better place in which to live."

are you waiting for what I was?

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth...then bought one!

Just like a lot of other people, I was putting off buying a new car... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth... and choice of models besides... hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs... a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Any wonder I quit waiting? Take my tip... get your Plymouth bargain right now.

Today's best buy...tomorrow's best trade... Plymouth

Regulations On Wages Effective In July

THE DAILY RECORD today begins publication of a series of articles on Pennsylvania's new minimum wage regulations for women and minors employed in retail trade occupations. The new rates are effective July 1.

A digest of the regulations was prepared by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn. and is being reprinted here as a public service. The first article follows:

Coverage

1. All women 21 years of age or older, and all minors, male and female, under 21 years of age, employed by any person, firm, or corporation to sell or offer for sale at retail any goods, wares, merchandise, articles or things.

(Observation: a) This regulation applies among others to grocery, drug and hardware stores, gasoline stations, variety and shoe stores, dress shops, candy, confectionery and bake shops, electrical appliance stores, etc.

It does not apply to farmers selling their own products at roadside stands or from their farms. It does apply, however, to other operators of roadside stands who do not sell exclusively products which they have raised or grown.

It applies to women and minors working at soda fountains not serving meals. The term "meals" is not defined in the regulation, but the Director of the Women and Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor and Industry interprets the word "meal" as embracing any food which requires any kind of preparation on the premises. Hence women and minors employed at a drug store, soda fountain or food counter who make or serve hot dog, hamburger or other kinds of sandwiches, coffee, tea, soup, etc. would not be subject to this regulation applying to retail trade occupations but would be subject to a forthcoming regulation applicable to restaurant occupations.

In establishments where employees "double" in - brass, "tending store" for the retail items which the proprietor sells across the counter as well as serving food which has been prepared on the premises (bakery and confectionery shops with a lunch trade, drug stores where the fountain girls also sell patent medicines and cosmetics), the women and minor so employed will become subject to this retail regulation immediately until further clarification of their status by forthcoming interpretative bulletins or regulations.

Thus a drug store or a variety store with a food counter selling and serving toast, eggs, sandwiches, coffee, etc. will find that its clerks who sell patent medicines, cosmetics, greeting cards, candies and toys will be subject to this regulation covering retail trade occupations, while those who sell and serve sandwiches, coffee, soups, etc. are subject to another.

If women and minor employees of soda fountains and food counters serve only food and drinks which have been fully prepared elsewhere (ice cream, soft drinks, packaged crackers, etc.), they are subject to this retail regulation. However, if they heat one hot dog and brew coffee or heat canned soup, they will be subject to the forthcoming restaurant regulation.

(b) It is to be noted that this regulation does not apply to women and minors engaged in occupations in the "service" trades such as carwash establishments, beauty and barber shops, dry cleaning establishments and laundries, shoe repair shops or bootblack and hat cleaning stands. The office of the Director of the Women and Children's Bureau advises that the status of these establishments is not changed by the fact that they may engage in some incidental selling of goods such as cosmetic preparations, moth-proof clothing bags, shoe findings, hat bands, etc.)

2. This regulation applies to all women 21 years of age or older, and to all minors, male and female, under 21 years of age employed in occupations, operations and services which are connected with or are incidental to retail selling.

(Observation: Hence we find that this regulation applies not only to women and minors who are engaged in direct selling but to all other women and minors in a retail establishment such as stock boys in department stores and supermarkets, delivery boys for the corner grocer, seamstresses or fitters in the alteration rooms of dress shops, clerical office employees and cashiers of all retail establishments, grease and car-wash boys in gasoline stations, etc.)

3. This regulation applies to all women 21 years of age or over and all minors, male and female, under 21 years of age engaged in wholesale, discount or other mercantile establishments making at least ten (10) percent of their dollar volume of sales to the ultimate consumer.

(Observation: This could apply to dairies (creameries) with retail store outlets, to local meat packers who may have a retail outlet or who sell quarters of beef, or loins of pork or other meats to a household for his freezer, to building supply dealers, fuel dealers, etc.

The regulation does not state the period which is to be used in determining the 10 percent volume of sales to the ultimate consumer. The Director of the Women and Children's Bureau charged with the administration of this regulation, interprets the regulation as requiring that this 10 percent be based upon "the most recent fiscal quarter" of the seller. When the regulation becomes effective on July 1, employers in this category operating on a calendar year basis would, therefore, look at their sales for the second quarter of 1958 ended June 30, to determine whether their female or minor employees would be subject to the regulation.

Employers operating on a different fiscal year would examine their sales for the last closed fiscal quarter prior to July 1.

Presumably an employer in this category could reexamine his volume of sales at the close of each fiscal quarter so that it is possible that his female and minor employees could be "in again and out again" under the regulation several times during the course of one calendar or fiscal year.)

Visitors Join In Church Service

DINGMAN'S FERRY — Visitors from Milford, Port Jervis, East Stroudsburg, and Layton, N.J., were among the large congregation which joined with the members of the Episcopal Church of St. John in their special anniversary celebration last Sunday.

The occasion marked the first full year of weekly services since the reorganization of St. John's.

The service was led by the rector, Rev. Richard Aselford, assisted by Lay Reader, Robert Dornier. Acolytes who served were Harry Lewis, Donald Findlay, Robert Hodges, Terry Hodges, Charles Dornier and David Snyder, headed by Warden of Acolytes Kennard Lewis.

Rev. David Sweet, former rector of the Milford and Dingmans Ferry churches, was guest preacher.

Altar flowers of red roses and baby's breath were given by Miss Roslyn Lindauer in memory of her father, and bouquets of pink and white peonies were placed in all the windows of the church by the women of the Altar Guild.

After the church service, a breakfast was served to 57 of the members and friends of the congregation at the Shady Lawn Hotel. Honored guests were Rev. Sweet's wife and three daughters, and Mrs. H. Walton Adams and Mrs. Robert G. Barkley, oldest members of the Dingmans Ferry and Milford churches, respectively. Arrangements for the breakfast were made by Robert Findlay, and Kennard Lewis acted as master of ceremonies.

Fire Causes $1,500 Loss To Cabin

MARSHALLS CREEK — Fire late Tuesday night caused $1,500 damage to the log cabin owned by Richard Freed, of East Stroudsburg RD 1, located off the creek road north of Marshalls Creek.

Forty members of the Marshalls Creek Fire Co. responded to the alarm during the height of the driving rain and electrical storm, traveling the 10-mile distance in five pieces of apparatus.

They poured more than 750 gallons of water on the burning building from their tank trucks and stayed on the scene three hours under the direction of Fire Chief Ralph Miller. The inside of the cabin was badly damaged and part of the roof caved in, firemen reported.

Freed, an employee of Holland Thread Co. in Stroudsburg, found his home afire when he returned from work about 11:45 p.m. He drove a mile and a half to Camp William Penn, where the nearest telephone was located, and called the fire company. The alarm sounded at 11:50.

Exact cause of the blaze was undetermined, firemen reported.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, at least it stopped raining long enough to get the grass cut but the bushes bordering the drive are so heavy with water that it's like driving through a jungle under overlapping boughs.

It's a peculiar Spring — or else I'm seeing it from a peculiar viewpoint. It seems as if we've been waiting for something — waiting for school to let out, but some of them still have another week to go; waiting for warm weather, but when it's warm it's also rainy.

Waiting for the weddings — well, we've had weddings but nothing to compare to other June's when the bridal pictures were lined up in droves like Friday afternoon jam-up at the check-out counters.

Waiting for the roses to bloom and then forgetting to look until they're shedding their petals in velvet drifts. Waiting for the alarm to go off in the morning, waiting for the children to come in at night.

Waiting, I guess, mostly for that this-vacation-let-us-be-happy-time feeling that just hasn't jelled yet. There are too many left-overs from a hectic winter, maybe.

But if we don't stop waiting for Spring and start enjoying it we're going to miss it altogether. Just one more week until Summer.

How To Pick And Pamper Strawberries Now In Style

Strawberries rank high in fashion this season. As a topic of conversation, they'll soon be taking over where the chemise-trapeze controversy leaves off.

But there's no argument here — everyone likes strawberries. Our modern berry is almost as French as fashion itself. It adds its beginning when a French army officer brought home some wild strawberry plants from South America. These were crossed with the North American variety already being cultivated in French gardens. The outcome was the smaller, brighter, richer tasting berry we enjoy today.

The New Jersey's strawberry season is just starting and Pennsylvania berries will follow in four or five days. The Pennsylvania crop is expected to be larger, while New Jersey's will be slightly smaller. Local berries have sized well under favorable growing conditions and quality will be good. Overlapping of supplies from other states has been encouraging special sales during the season. But don't wait for an end of the season sale — or month end clearance. By that time they'll be gone.

Shipped-in berries are higher in price and are sold in one-pint containers. This way the price per unit is held down. When local berries come to the front, they're in one quart boxes. Keep in mind size of container — one quart selling for 49c is a better buy than a pint for 30c.

Choose for Color — Follow a Set Pattern! The best ones look so good they catch your eye. These are bright, glossy solid red berries. They should have bright green caps, no moisture, dirt or soft spots. Flavor depends upon variety and ripeness, not upon size.

So don't always select the biggest — smaller berries give more servings — but there's more caps to take off. Touches of white on strawberries mean they were picked before thoroughly ripened.

Since strawberries wear only a price tag and there's no label that states they are crease resistant or bruise proof, they need the best of care right off. And this starts in the store, make them the last item you purchase — put them high on the stack — not on the bottom of the basket.

Bring them home right away, roll out in a flat pan. Pick out any bruised berries, cover loosely with waxed paper. Keep in the refrigerator — 2 or 3 days as is the limit.

Dip and Drip Dry just before using. Dip gently and quickly in cold water. Lift berries out with fingers, letting sand and dirt fall to the bottom. Don't soak in water — they fill up, lose flavor and vitamins. Remove caps after berries are clean and dry.

Strawberries are not only good in taste and pretty to see but they are special for Vitamin C. One cup of berries contains the same amount as a 6 ounce glass of orange juice.

Strawberries are short in length on calories. They're only 54 per cup. That is, of course, without sugar.

And size to buy is important. Even though cartons and crates are back in their same old shapes, here's something you may need to know.

1 quart — 4-5 serving; 2 quarts — 3 pints frozen; 1 crate (24 quarts) — 36 pints frozen; 1 crate — 33 7/4 oz. jars of jam.

As long as eating's in style, there's good taste in the simplest of combinations. Serve strawberries with — Cream... whipped, sour, or ice cream; Fruit... pineapple, rhubarb, bananas or melon; Cottage cheese for a salad; Cereal and the ever special favorite, shortcake.

Scouts Fill Little Church In Maine

(Special to The Daily Record from the Scout trip to Nova Scotia, from Anne Altemose, correspondent.)

Boletown, N. B. — Sunday: The day started at 5 a. m., with a few exceptions for the Wyckoff trip members. In about an hour we were snugly packed in the bus and ready to go.

Our first stop was breakfast. One early morning delicacy was ice cream on cornflakes.

Our next stop was Troy Unity Church in Troy, Maine. Our 25 trip members made up about half the congregation. After the service was over "Papa" Wyckoff suggested that we serenade them. I think they enjoyed it.

On our way again, we noticed out of the back of the bus that a woman in the car following us was taking our picture. This developed into a most interesting conversation exchanged by way of notes until we came to a fork in the road where we went right and they went left.

We passed customs without much difficulty and are now spending the night at Griff-Inns. We are enjoying ourselves thoroughly.

THE MAIL ARRIVES: My correspondent might not approve of having her signature appear in public print, but I'm sure she'll forgive me for repeating part of her lovely letter to this column: "We liked what you wrote of Mr. Wyckoff. Your tale of him driving the bus and joining in the singing, made quite an impression on us, as it probably did on the hundreds of others who read your chatty and informative column."

"With the hustle and bustle that makes up most of today's living, most employers have neither the time nor the patience to take part in their employees' activities, even though deep down in their hearts they wish they could relax more than they do! No wonder his employees are all so friendly and nice when he sets them such a fine example. Continue to write more about him, Madalyn. It's nice to know there are such fine people."

I am grateful for the letter. It is pleasant to know when someone has been pleased, and to know that there are interested readers. At the moment there is very little I can write about Mr. Wyckoff except to say that he is now taking his annual vacation with a store busload of Girl and Boy Scouts and their leaders.

Having foot discomfort? Now is the time to correct it. According to a communication from the Women's Feature Syndicate, feet demand more attention than ever during the long, hot days when lightweight, open footwear is alternated with bare feet. Forty-two years ago, Dr. William M. Scholl inaugurated Foot Comfort Week, which will be observed June 21 to 28. Here are some of Dr. Scholl's rules which are almost beyond improvement:

Wash feet daily, paying particular attention to hard-to-reach areas at back of heels and between the toes.

Apply an after-bath balm to keep feet supple and stimulate circulation.

Don't wear the same shoes within a 2-day period. Give them a chance to air out.

Apply special pads to corns and callouses. Trimming with a razor can cause serious infections — even blood poisoning.

Dust foot powder into shoes, and hosiery, and on feet to soothe and refresh the feet and aid in the prevention of odors and athlete's foot.

Wear sensible shoes if you are on your feet all day. High heels tend to strain leg muscles and cause muscle fatigue early in the day.

Elevate feet whenever possible to aid circulation.

Wear properly fitted shoes. Allow ample room for all toes and make sure the heel fits snugly.

Several weeks ago a number of the girls at Wyckoff's were complaining about burning feet. I suppose it was due to the warm weather—because others outside of the store were also lamenting about foot discomfort. I solved my particular problem by investing in Dr. Scholl's foot Balm—and a few pressure pads. Also a pumice stone to keep those callouses smooth and under control. A few of the girls told me their solution was to invest in our nylon stockings with COTTON feet. These are absorbent and have only the heavier foot—the stocking itself is as sheer as any other. Ask the girls in our hosiery department to show you!

For perfectly fitted summer shoes, or Dr. School foot aids, there is another easy solution. Visit our Wyckoff shoe department.

A Day In The Pocono Mountains With Gov. Leader

HAPPY LANDING at Mount Pocono Airport started Governor George Leader's Memorial Day off pleasantly. He arrived at airfield at 10:10 A.M. The sun was shining. The sky was clear slate-blue. It was "perfect flying weather" in the Poconos.

OFFICIAL GREETING came from John Rezzolla, chief counsel, Pennsylvania Department of Highways. Others on hand to meet Governor at airport: Harold Swenson, Department of Commerce; Bill Dougherty, highways public relations man; Roy Dengler, Airport Authority chairman; H. John Davis, airport manager.

FLAG SALUTE at Gouldsboro State Park was part of official opening ceremony. Master of ceremonies J. Horace Strunk, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce-Vacation Bureau called for invocation first; commented that "without God" America could not exist at the great nation it is. Then members of 109th Infantry, National Guard presented colors.

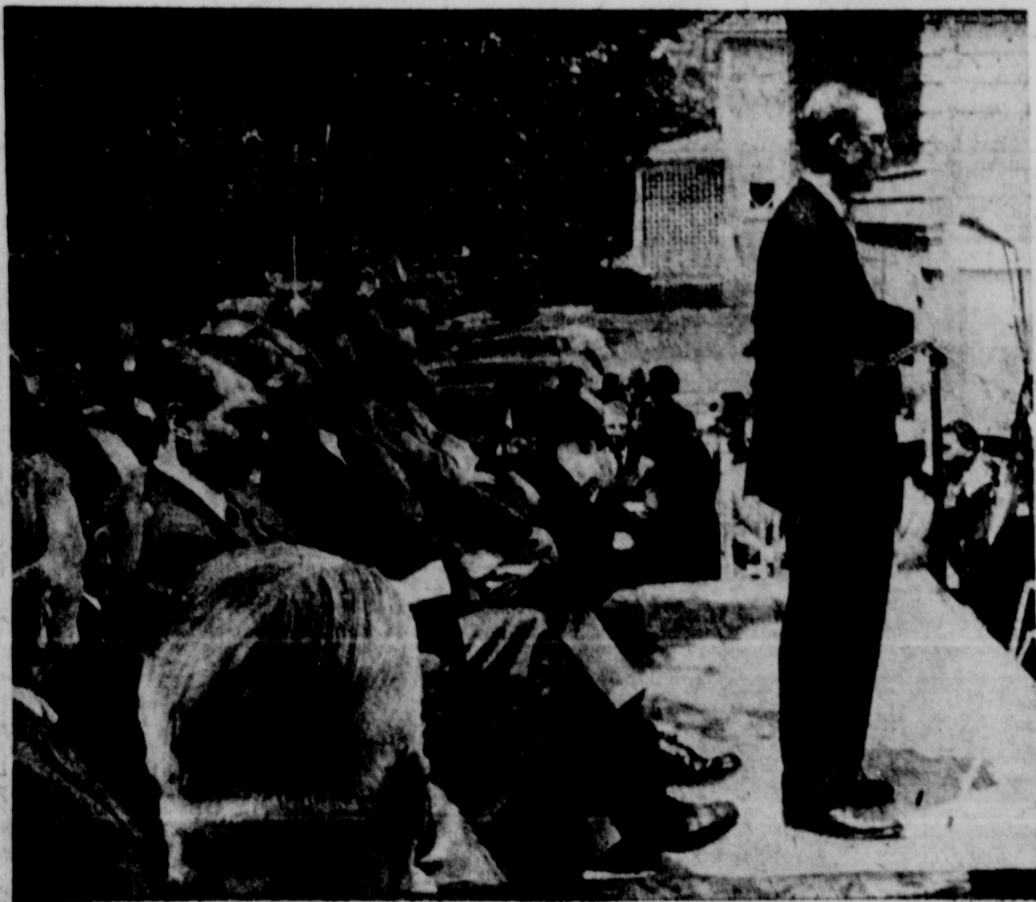

ON PARK PLATFORM with Gov. Leader were several state officials. Here, Horace Strunk opens introductions of guests, Dr. Maurice Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, second from right, looks upward at cloud passing over sun. Weather stayed sunny and fine all morning at Gouldsboro; clouds brought only few drops of rain later.

OFFICIAL THANKS of Monroe County residents for new state park in area was brought by John R. Lesoine, chairman of county commissioners. Park has 300-acre lake, boating, swimming, fishing facilities; is one of largest and finest small parks in East.

AT GROUND BREAKING ceremony, Governor was welcomed by East Stroudsburg Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory, at left. Here Governor Leader introduces Harold Swenson, Commerce department to Rev. Harold G. Durkin, pastor of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Parish and (at extreme right) Rev. John Bollier, First Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

MEANING OF THE DAY was interpreted by Rev. Bollier midway through ground-breaking program. Platform for ceremony was set up on rear of large semi-trailer provided by James Morrissey contractor for first phase of Stroudsburg Thruway project.

PLAN FOR THE FUTURE for highway development throughout State is in hands of Highways Secretary Lewis Stevens. Here Secretary Stevens is shown as he addressed groundbreaking audience near close of program. He praised fine spirit of cooperation local citizens have shown with department workers in making new Thruway possible. A humorous remark brings laughter from Ed Doran, Stroudsburg Burgess, seated at the left.

PURPOSE OF PROGRESS made by any government, Gov. Leader said during his talk, is to "provide a better world for children such as these" seated on lawn at Charles Dellaria home, 380 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, listening to his talk. Two boys at right wore National Guard "uniforms"; carried their own weapons.

OFF THE RECORD

DANNY PACE, the artful one from Delaware Water Gap, always a person who can bring out the good athletes of the past, has decided to have around himself material which will make the bygone days seem even closer.

Like some lovers of art collect masterpieces, Danny is picking up here and there aged golf clubs—the type that came out before knickers.

At his place of business, below Foxtown Hill, Pace has old-time clubs with the wooden shafts, and irons that were not known by a number, gracing his walls.

Actually the Blue Note is turning into a museum of golf. Asked why the pin-pointing of the past, Pace remarked, "If I don't have a good day on the links (he is a middle 80 golfer) I can always return to my 'old' clubs and think of the great days Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen and Gene Zera Sarazen had with less powerful hitting material than we have today."

"It sort of gives me some consolation and the initiative to go out and do better the next time," he said.

Paul Zintel, East Stroudsburg Teachers All-All soccer player last year, will teach and coach in New York State this year.

Paul, one of the best booters ever turned out by first Howard DeNike and later John Eller, will coach basketball and football at Liberty, N. Y. High.

John Kupiec, former head coach of basketball at Stroudsburg High School, has left for Boston, Mass., where he will serve once again as golf professional at one of the Bay State's government-owned golf links.

Kupiec, one of the better linksmen around these parts, has served in the same capacity before on Massachusetts courses.

Speaking of golf the 23rd annual Pennsylvania Public Golfers Association's State Amateur championship will be held at Hershey Park Golf Club, July 24-25-26.

Team competition (club foursomes) and the 72-hole medal play event feature the three-day runoffs.

Those in the area wishing to compete may get further details from R. W. Piazza, Post Office Box 171, Norristown, Piazza is secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Public Golfers Association.

Entries close for the state play July 19.

Frank Radler, manager of the Strouds, is high on his infield of third baseman Al McCormick, shortstop Paul (Doc) Lim, second sacker Dick Gray and first baseman Danny Epley.

"Those boys are as good as any infield I've ever managed in Class D ball," Radler revealed.

"They certainly make life easier for a pitcher with their constant threat on a double play ball," Frank said.

The Strouds have been averaging three DPS a game this year.

Incidentally the reason Radler pulled himself out of the game the other day against Martins Creek was a previously hurt pulled tendon began acting up again in the fifth inning.

He stayed on for another inning and a half before beckoning southpaw Billy Metzgar to the hill.

Radler expects to be ready for action again real soon.

Jones' One-Hit Pitching Gives Penn-Stroud Victory

PENN-STROUD won its first Stroudsburg Little League game as Terry Jones one-hit Wyckoff-Sears for an 11-1 victory.

Fine fielding and the hitting of W. Miller and Morekin, Pansy and Kresge, each of whom had two hits, jetted Archie Rundle's previously winless team to victory.

Stags District 12 Baseball Champions

Haag Pitches Teammates To 5-3 Triumph

FACTORYVILLE, Pa.—Greene-Dreher - Sterling High captured its first District 12 baseball championship here yesterday, downing Elk Lake in the tournament finale by a 5-3 score.

Bob Haag hurled the Stags of Hank Arneberg to victory, limiting the Lakers to six hits as his mates pounded out 10 off Don Carter, the loser, and Ray McGavin.

Scott, with three hits, including a double, and Don and Ron Olson, with two each (also including two-baggers) led the Stags to the plate.

Greene-Dreher, in posting its eighth win in nine games, scored three runs in the first frame, and moved behind the effective hurling of Haag to gain the verdict.

Battling against a school which has a 400-student enrollment against their 150, the Stags beat back a late last ditch Elk Lake rally to ring up the victory.

JOHNSONVILLE — Johnsonville put over a run in the final inning to gain a 3-2 victory over the Stroud Juniors in a Bi-State League game here yesterday.

Joey Giardello Notches 10-Canto Win Over German

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joey Giardello used his quick fists to out-style Frank Suzuzina and gain a 10-round decision before an elegant audience at the Shoreham Terrace last night.

Each fighter weighed 160.

The victory stretched the Yanks' American League lead to nine games and dropped the Athletics to third.

Don Larsen remained undefeated as he posted his fifth victory in the opener in which the Yanks collected 14 hits off five pitchers.

Hogan Hovers Over Open

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Heat, wind, sand and the imposing shadow of Ben Hogan provided an unnerving distraction Wednesday for the giants of golf poised for the opening of the 58th National Open Championship.

The world's toughest golf test course made more formidable by stifling temperatures in the high 90's, gusts that whip up to 30 m.p.h., unplayable sand and gritty rough.

Hogan, the tight-lipped Texan seeking a record fifth title, is the sentimental favorite but hard realists lean toward half a dozen other pros who might be better able to stand Saturday's 36-hole marathon windup.

ANOTHER FIRST FROM ESSO RESEARCH

ATOMIC RESEARCH CREATES A NEW KIND OF GASOLINE!

How the science of atoms solved a problem:
One of the most important applications of industrial atomic research to date is the creation of a completely new premium gasoline, New Formula Esso Extra. For the first time, atomic science was used to identify the elements in gasoline which form injurious deposits in your engine. Next, brand-new refining procedures were used which remove these components during the refining process. This has made possible an entirely new kind of premium gasoline — another first from Esso Research!*

How this benefits your car—your pocketbook:
Under all around driving conditions, you'll find New Formula Esso Extra outperforms other premiums costing 1¢ and 2¢ more. It is the cleanest premium you can buy. It actually reduces deposits left in your engine, gives more mileage per dollar, and better performance over the whole wide range of gasoline values. We believe that New Formula Esso Extra will change your ideas about premium gasoline performance. Try it soon for "Happy Motoring!"

Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Are Racing At Nazareth Sunday Night

NIGHT stock car racing, under powerful floodlights, will make its 1958 debut at the Nazareth, Pa., Fairgrounds this coming Sunday night, 8:15 p.m.

Promoter Jerry Fried is starting his nighttime shows pointed out that the move was made to provide a larger field of racers, and to give car owners a chance to repair equipment damaged in crashes on Fridays and Saturdays at other tracks.

The Opening Night show will feature race cars from New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Pennsylvania. There will be both modified and sportsman cars.

Five Events

Three 10-lap heats, a 12-lap consolation, and a 25-lap feature is scheduled. A new payoff system has been drawn up by Fried, effecting both the modified and the sportsman cars.

Four 1958 features have given fans exciting races — Ralph Smith, Aberdeen, Md., winning twice; Fred Fehr, Easton, and Dick Tobias, Lebanon, each winning once. Otto Harwi, Easton, 1955-56-57 champ, has yet to win a 1958 feature event at Nazareth.

New record times have been established at the half-mile track — Ken Wismer, Riegelsville, running 10 laps in 4 minutes, 55.8, and Jim Metzler, Pottersville, N. J., running 12 laps in 5:54.0. Wismer is the 1954 Nazareth champ.

The night races will be held on a rebuilt track that has provided sensational events to date. Continued top competition is promised as the drivers turn on the speed under the floodlights this Sunday.
